Rodeo Canada - The CPRA

THE CANADIAN PROFESSIONAL RODEO ASSOCIATION (CPRA)

The Canadian Professional Rodeo Association (CPRA), with its headquarters in Airdrie, AB, is the sanctioning body for professional rodeo in Canada.

The CPRA sanctioned 51 events in Canada last year with a combined total payout of over $5 million.

The CPRA is committed to maintaining the highest standards that ensure every CPRA-sanctioned event is managed with fairness and competence, and the livestock used is healthy and cared for to the highest standards.

The CPRA has a strong working relationship with the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) in the United States, and most Canadian rodeos are co-approved for world championship points. World Champions are declared using combined CPRA and PRCA points.

Although the contestants are the most visible, the association's membership also consists of rodeo committees, stock contractors, judges, rodeo secretaries, announcers, timers, bullfighters, associate members, photographers, specialty-act performers and more.

Approximately 1,040 members are represented by the CPRA's board of directors, who govern the sport of professional rodeo in Canada.

CPRA rodeos create a positive economic impact on the cities and towns that host them. For example, the Canadian Finals Rodeo generates an economic impact of more than $50 million annually into the local community. As well, professional rodeos in North America raise in excess of $30 million for local and international charities each year.

The 40th Annual Canadian Finals Rodeo attracted over 88,500 fans to Rexall Place in Edmonton, AB last November, a testament to the sport's ongoing popularity and growth.

Wrangler PRO OFFICIALS

The professional judging system was implemented in 1983 and through the substantial financial support of Wrangler, it has expanded to employ up to 20 judges, supplemented by part-time, reserve officials. They make up the Wrangler Official Judging Team.

The objective of the system is in a word-consistency. Through instruction, constant attention to, interpretation and review of the rule book, and repetition of performance, a high level of consistency in judges' in-arena decisions can be achieved.

In 2013, there were 16 judges who worked the 51 rodeos, and as many as 12 judges are needed during some weeks of the season. Itineraries are drawn up so that the judges are paired up week-in and week-out with different partners. In other words, two to four-man teams will be mixed from one rodeo to the next, where dates and travel schedules permit. A few of the lead Pro Officials have over 20 years of judging experience.

A judging commission was formed to give input at the annual judging seminar. This committee evaluates the judges' performances at the seminar as well as throughout the year, and acts as a grievance committee for any complaints pertaining to pro officials. At the seminars, the commission members, along with the judges, take part in classroom and actual arena activities, reviewing rides on video, and discussing the reasoning behind their in-arena decisions. Sessions devoted to the rule book, interpretation of the rules, positioning and procedures are also held.

In the past, hiring judges was the responsibility of the stock contractor and the rodeo committees. Availability of individual cowboys was the determining factor in who judged a rodeo. The Wrangler Pro Official Judging Team has overcome concern expressed by observers of the sport who had questioned the impartiality of judges; they asked how active contestants could not be influenced in their deliberations, judging one day and being judged the next by those they themselves had marked at a previous rodeo.

Through Wrangler's sponsorship, the clinics, the growing experience of the judges, and the consistency in the marking of animals and rides, professional rodeo continues to improve.

Wrangler Canadian Rodeo Tour

2014 Wrangler Canadian Rodeo Tour

For the 2014 rodeo season, the Canadian Professional Rodeo Association will once again feature the Wrangler Canadian Rodeo Tour, which is made up of ten (10) high-profile rodeos in Canada.

This high-excitement, talent driven tour offers an added bonus to contestants who compete in it. The top eight (8) point-earners in each of the seven (7) major events at the completion of the Tour will compete in the Wrangler Tour Shootout August 31, 2014 on the final day of the Armstrong IPE and Stampede in Armstrong, BC.

- * The top 8 in each event from the Wrangler Tour (based on standings at the end of the 2014 Armstrong Pro Rodeo) will compete in a one day one head shootout for $4000 per event.
- * The Wrangler Tour Shootout prize money will count towards the Canadian Standings.
- * The Wrangler Tour champions will also win a bye into the 2015 Calgary Stampede in all events excluding barrel racing and team roping.

This a great way to put an exclamation point on the tour and one more chance for contestants to win CFR points.

Wrangler Tour Shootout August 31

CRES

In this age of computers, it is hard to imagine that at one time cowboys often spent all day on a pay phone trying to enter a rodeo.

Contestants had to reach rodeo offices individually, usually with only one rodeo secretary taking all the calls. With entries taken only on specific dates, a contestant could spend hours trying to get through a jammed phone line.

In 1977, entering rodeos changed dramatically with the introduction of the Central Rodeo Entry System (CRES), a computerized telecommunications entry system which was designed to overcome the complications of entering rodeos by allowing cowboys to take care of the majority of their weekly rodeo business through one office.

Telephone operators are at the CPRA office during the rodeo season to key in information given by the contestants.

Contestants not only tell the operator what events they are in and which days they would like to have at each rodeo, they can also enter with their traveling partners. CRES helps increase the likelihood that they will all compete at the same rodeos at the same time, therefore allowing them to share travel expenses.

After entries are closed, the computer randomly draws positions for each contestant entered. Once the CRES office has completed the draw, a callback day is held, usually within 24 hours of the rodeo entries closing, allowing contestants to phone back and find out what performance they have drawn for that rodeo. Once contestants have sorted out any conflicts they may have, the names and numbers of specific bucking stock are entered into the computer and each contestant is randomly assigned an animal. Contestants then call the CRES office for a scheduled stock callback to find out what stock they have drawn. This information is usually available to the contestants a minimum of one week before the rodeo in question begins.

Although various factors affect the chances of contestants getting the day they asked for, every cowboy entered in the roughstock events has an equal chance of drawing the best animal.

Considering contestants often enter two and sometimes three events, the computer is able to draw up a schedule that allows contestants to work as many as four rodeos a weekend, competing in all their events on the same day at each rodeo.

CRES requires a full-time manager and up to three part-time operators. CRES handles an estimated 40,000 calls per season, with all calls being recorded to ensure accuracy.

If a discrepancy occurs, the CRES manager listens to the call and the problem is immediately resolved.

* CRES now offers an online entry option as well available via the rodeocanada.com website.

2014 CPRA Media Guidelines

NOTE: The following guidelines govern media covering CPRA events. All media must review these. At the discretion of the CPRA and/or the respective rodeo committee, failure to adhere to these may result in forfeiture of media credentials and escort from the premises, as well as refusal of accreditation for future events. Unless specified otherwise, journalists and media are general terms for print, electronic, television, Internet and photo journalists.

General media guidelines and regulations

- Credentials are distributed on an as-available basis to journalists of recognized news outlets who are on assignment to cover the event and/or the CPRA. Journalists must represent recognized daily or weekly newspapers; news services; recognized publications and outlets that regularly cover rodeo; recognized national/regional radio and television networks; local radio and television stations; and/or recognized Internet sites. In each case, this is determined by the CPRA and the respective rodeo at their sole discretion.
- Accreditation badge must be worn at all times.
- Freelance journalists and photographers must provide proof of assignment to be considered for accreditation. They also must sign a form confirming that the images taken will only be used for that specific publication and for that specific story.
- News media credential applications and approvals to cover individual CPRA rodeos are available through the Canadian Rodeo News office. Media credentials must be requested no less than one week in advance.
- Security checkpoints and procedures have been implemented for the safety and protection of all. Accredited media are expected to cooperate with the procedures and requirements implemented for access to the media, photographer and broadcast areas. Media access will vary by rodeo, and the media rules of the respective rodeo must be followed.
- Contestants are available for interviews after they compete.
- Many of the individuals staffing media areas are volunteers, and the accredited media and broadcasters are expected to treat them with courtesy and respect.
- Media access to contestant warm-up areas depends on the regulations of the respective rodeo.

Television, Radio and Internet

The CPRA owns the rights to originate live, play-by-play coverage from the rodeo grounds, and in many instances, these rights may have been awarded to a broadcast or cable network and/or an Internet provider. Subject to the limitations previously outlined, non-rights-holding local radio, television stations, networks and Internet providers are encouraged to cover CPRA events with the following limitations.

- The CPRA retains all rights in and to the filming, taping, recording in any media now or hereafter known, still footage/photography, radio or television broadcasting or reproduction in any manner or form thereof of any CPRA-sanctioned event. The only exemption is coverage for local, regularly scheduled newscasts. Any non-local news outlets must first get approval from the national CPRA office and the local rodeo before it can shoot footage at any CPRA-sanctioned rodeo.
- Television, radio and broadcast credentials applications and approvals to cover individual CPRA rodeos are available through the CPRA office. Credentials must be requested no less than two weeks in advance.
- Some rodeo rounds are televised, and for those sessions, access may be limited.
- Any TV/radio broadcaster who does not comply with the above regulations will, without warning, have his/her accreditation withdrawn for the remainder of the rodeo and may be banned by the CPRA from covering future events.
- For local, regional and national TV news coverage, coverage of CPRA rodeos shall not exceed three minutes in length in the daily aggregate and must be a part of a regularly scheduled newscast. Only taped footage may be included in these reports. The outlet may not purport to show live, play-by-play coverage from a rodeo unless approved in advance by the local rodeo and the CPRA.
- Local credentialed TV outlets may broadcast live from the rodeo grounds, as long as the broadcast does not include action from inside the arena (which is covered above).
- Television cameras are not allowed on the arena floor, with the exception of the TV network covering the event.
- The CPRA owns the rights to all recorded coverage of its rodeos, whether it airs on a national, regional or local network. All media outlets will provide the CPRA with copies of their coverage upon request.
- Radio and Internet (audio or video) coverage may not purport to be live, play-by-play from the rodeo unless this has been approved and arranged in advance with the local committee and the CPRA.

General photography guidelines

- Only accredited photographers may shoot at a CPRA-sanctioned rodeo for media and/or commercial purposes.
- Freelance photographers will not be accredited without proof of assignment for a specific media outlet and without signing an agreement for limiting usage of the images to the specified assignment.
- Only CPRA photographers are allowed to shoot in the arena. The only exception to this is for a post-rodeo ceremony shot, if applicable.
- Photographers must shoot from designated photo areas as set out by the rodeo committee. Photographers may not shoot behind the bucking chutes during a rough-stock event except with specific committee approval and may only shoot from there for timed events with the appropriate approval.
- Any secondary non-editorial or commercial use of any picture, film or drawing of a competitor is prohibited without prior consent of the CPRA, the contestant and/or the stock contractor.
- Photographers who do not comply fully with the above regulations may, without warning, have their credentials withdrawn for the remainder of the rodeo and could be banned by CPRA from attending future events.

2013 Specialty Awards and Acts

KIM COCHLAN - Committee Person of the Year

The Canadian Professional Rodeo Association recently recognized a dedicated, long-serving volunteer as its Committee Person of the Year.

"I was 18 years old when I first joined the Stavely Rodeo committee," explained Kim Cochlan. "At first, I helped out around the timed event end of the arena, but over the years, along with some great committee members, I've done a variety of jobs."

It was those years of experience and commitment that resulted in Cochlan receiving the prestigious honour that is an important part of every rodeo season.

"I was surprised to hear I'd won the award," said Cochlan. "In fact, I asked (CPRA Rodeo Administrator) Kynan Vine if he was sure he had the right name!" Despite his surprise at hearing about the accolade, Cochlan was excited to win it. Along with a commemorative buckle (presented by Wrangler at the non-CFR award ceremony at the River Cree Resort and Casino in Edmonton in November); Cochlan received a CPRA Gold card.

2014 will mark Kim Cochlan's tenth year as rodeo chairman.

"We have a strong rodeo committee," Cochlan emphasizes. "There are 12-15 members at any given time, and most of those have been around for a long time. We couldn't have a rodeo without them." Cochlan also points to his wife, Margo, as a key player when it comes to the success of the event.

BRETT GARDINER - Announcer of the Year

2013 marked Brett's first appearance behind the microphone at the Canadian Finals Rodeo and came on the heels of his being named Canada's Rodeo Announcer of the Year for the third consecutive year. A two time winner of the Bill Kehler Memorial Scholarship during his intercollegiate career, Brett has quickly and firmly endeared himself to rodeo audiences across western Canada taking his knowledge and passion for the sport to a number of top rodeos and bull ridings across Canada.

A high school teacher when not on the rodeo trail, Brett, his wife Jaclyn, son, Grady, and daughter, Hadley live in Sylvan Lake, Alberta.

NIKI FLUNDRA - Dress Act of the Year

Niki Flundra has been selected winner of the Dress Act of the Year Award for the third time in succession. A Canadian treasure, the talented performer has been a trick rider and 'liberty' horse entertainer during a career that spans more than fifteen years and has seen her thrill huge crowds at the Calgary Stampede, Houston, Fort Worth, the Wrangler NFR (seven times) and our own Canadian Finals Rodeo. She has appeared as a stunt double in numerous motion picture and television shows, most recently, the popular Heartland series.

Niki and her husband, three time Canadian Saddle Bronc Champion Dustin and their son, Ridge, live and ranch south of Pincher Creek, Alberta.

Niki has appeared as a stunt double in numerous motion picture and television shows, most recently, the popular Heartland series.

2013 Specialty Awards and Acts

DENNIS HALSTEAD - Comedy Act of the Year

Winner of the Comedy Act of the Year award for the fourth time, Dennis Halstead is a household name among rodeo fans on both sides of the 49th parallel. Along with a thirty year career as a Calgary firefighter, the relentlessly zany Halstead has entertained audiences at virtually every major rodeo in Canada, including the Calgary Stampede five times. In recent years Dennis's itinerary has expanded into the United States where he's twice been selected for the Dodge National Circuit Finals. Rodeo has even taken the Okotoks funnyman overseas to Hong Kong and one of the biggest rodeos ever put on in Melbourne Australia.

Even with all the hotel beds slept in and hospital wards visited he still considers himself one of the most fortunate people on the planet.

"I never dreamed in a million years I'd be a rodeo clown this late into my life but it all just played out and I'm very fortunate to get to do what I do," he said. "It's a dream to do what we do and live the lifestyle of a cowboy."

BRETT MONEA - CFR Bull Fighter

Brett Monea has quickly endeared himself to bull riders and rodeo fans alike as one of the most talented and courageous bull fighters in the game.

After graduating from a bullfighting school hosted by T.J. Baird and Jason Davidson in 2001, Brett has refined his skills and moved up the ranks to make his first ever CFR appearance (after twice being voted to the alternate bull-fighter role) in 2013. Brett has also been selected as a PBR Canada Finals bullfighter and in July of this past year made his inaugural appearance at the Calgary Stampede.

A journeyman carpenter when he's not on the rodeo trail, Brett, his wife Amy and their new son, Wesley call Wetaskiwin home.

SCOTT BYRNE - CFR Bull Fighter

Bullfighter Scott Byrne celebrated his eleventh appearance as a CFR Bull Fighter at the 2013 Canadian Finals.

A member of one of Canada's premiere bull riding and bullfighting finals it seemed predestined that 'Scottie' would follow the life path he has. After graduating at the top of the class from his uncle Ryan Byrne's bull fighting school, Scott has gone on to work virtually all of Canada's top rodeos and bull riding events with nine selections for the PBR Canada National Finals and fifteen Calgary Stampede appearances to his credit.

Scott and his wife Raegan have a horse boarding facility in Brandon, Manitoba. They have two sons, Brayden and Dylan.

2013 Cowboy of the Year

GERALD Hoover HAYS

"It doesn't matter whether you're in Corpus Christi, Texas or Luxton, British Columbia, mention the name, "Hoover" and people know who you're talking about."

The words were spoken by Murry Milan, CPRA President who was talking about the 2013 Douglas Lake Ranch Cowboy of the Year in Canadian Pro Rodeo--Gerald (Hoover) Hays.

"If you're at a rodeo and you need a truck, Hoover will give you his and find a way to get home," Milan added. "He's a guy who lives for rodeo and has given an awful lot to this sport. It's his life."

'Hoover' was crowned Cowboy of the Year during the recently completed 40th Anniversary Canadian Finals Rodeo and was taken completely by surprise by the honour.

"I knew I'd been nominated a few times before but I was totally surprised that I'd won it," the Rocky Mountain House cowboy beamed. "It's such an honour to get this."

Hoover's career followed that of his dad, Gerry Hays, who rode broncs and roped calves. After a short-lived career as a bareback rider, Hoover turned to steer wrestling and competed for a couple of decades with multiple appearances at the Calgary Stampede and just about every major rodeo in North America to his credit. Though he got to just one CFR-in 1991-he qualified another time but was hurt and couldn't go and in 1982 was winning Canada when a broken arm put an end to his season.

Included in the Hoover Hays highlight package are holding the arena record at Cheyenne, a 5.4 in 1997, a time that's been equaled but never beaten and his record-equaling 13 qualifications for the short go at Pendleton. "I'd trade 'em all for one win down there," he quipped. But it was son J.D. who took care of that bit of unfinished business, taking the Oregon title in 2011.

And, of course, Hoover is no stranger to the other side of the doggin' box. He started hazing back in the 70's as he was learning the steer wrestling game from good friend, Bob Hare, in California. And as a hazer, there aren't many any better than Gerald Hays. And, by the way, it was during the California phase of his career that the nickname took hold. "There was an announcer and auctioneer down there and he hung Hoover on me because of how fast I could go through food."

But for all his own arena success, ask Hoover and he'll tell you that what he's most proud of is helping his two sons, J. D. and Rowdy, to CFR appearances of their own. With Dad on the other side of the box doing the hazing most of the time, both of the younger Hays boys have had outstanding steer wrestling careers of their own.

Hoover Hays hazing for his son, JD - 2012 CFR

And maybe the best news of all - that giant Hoover grin, never ending help for anyone needing it and the extended hand of friendship to everyone he sees at a rodeo will be very much in evidence in 2014 and for many, many more years. With his log-hauling put to bed for the summer and wife Kathy handling things on the home front, Hoover will be on the rodeo trail, lovin' every minute of it and helping out everywhere he can.

2014 Miss Rodeo Canada

NICOLE BRIGGS

Miss Rodeo Canada 2014, Nicole Briggs, is 21 years old and was born and raised on a farm in Gibbons, Alberta. At the age of five she was given her first pony and it wasn't long after that she began swinging a rope and chasing steers. At nine she competed in her first rodeo, fell in love with the sport and never looked back!

Nicole graduated from Sturgeon Composite High School in 2010. She is currently attending the University of Alberta completing a BSc in Animal Health. Future plans include the pursuit of a career in veterinary medicine.

Nicole is active in the rodeo and ranching worlds and held the title of Miss Rodeo Airdrie in 2012. She was honoured to represent the Airdrie Rodeo Ranch Association and the City of Airdrie during her reign.

Nicole is the President of the Canadian Intercollegiate Rodeo Association and received the prestigious Cowgirl of the Year award in 2013. She also competed at the 2014 Canadian Intercollegiate Finals - in goat tying, breakaway roping and team roping.

Nicole strongly believes in paying it forward. In her spare time, you will find Nicole in the arena working as a riding instructor, and inspiring young horse and rodeo enthusiasts. "Wherever my trails may lead I will remain a genuine cowgirl, living my dream and aspiring to share our Western Heritage". Nicole's goals are to keep the tradition alive in the sport of rodeo and to instill the love and passion of the sport into the hearts of others.

2014 Cowgirl of the Year

RANDA NUGENT

For Randa Nugent, CFR 40 was extra special. The barrel horse trainer/competitor was recognized by her peers as the 2013 Cowgirl of the Year.

"Winning the award was a real surprise for me. It means so much to be acknowledged by others. The award is based on horsemanship, sportsmanship, and promotion of the sport of rodeo. I feel those are things that have always meant something to me. I try to be a good ambassador for the sport of rodeo (not just barrel racing)."

From a rodeo family (parents Bob and Monica Wilson and brother Riley are all CFR qualifiers and husband, Mark Nugent is a former Canadian tie-down roping champion); the Water Valley, Alberta cowgirl doesn't remember 'starting to ride'. It's just something she's always done.

A barrel racer for over 30 years. Nugent has progressed from high school and college competition to futurities and professional rodeos.

Among Randa's career highlights are the 2013 Canadian Barrel Horse Incentive Super Stakes win, competing at the Calgary Stampede and qualifying for the Ponoka Stampede short-go.

A few years ago, Nugent's passion for rodeo and barrel racing prompted her to take on the role of Canadian Professional Rodeo Association barrel racing director, a position she's held for five years.

"The job is both fulfilling and challenging at the same time. There are so many facets to being on the CPRA Board of Directors that I feel most people don't know about until they have been a director. I love the sport of rodeo and want to see it continue to grow in Canada."

2013 Stock the Year

Stock Contractor of the Year VOLD RODEO

For the first time in the history of the CPRA, stock contractor Wayne Vold has been voted Stock Contractor of the Year. It's an award, Vold was humble in accepting.

"It's an honor and I'm extremely proud of it," Vold commented. "I'd like to thank the cowboys and cowgirls for voting for me."

In his life-long stock-contracting career, Vold has produced many of the top rodeos in Canada. And he owns and raises some of the top bucking stock anywhere.

Bareback Horse of the Year 73 TRUE GRIT - Vold Rodeo Ltd.

Wayne Vold was happy and with good reason. This year's Stock Contractor of the Year was had just learned that a recent purchase, True Grit, had been named 2013 Bareback Horse of the Year.

A former Bareback horse of the CCA Finals, the mare, raised by Kelly Oremba, made a name for herself while being bucked at a number of Jim Lawrence's Prime Time rodeos in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

"It's nice when you buy one and it pans out; that doesn't always happen," Vold commented. "I'm really happy with her. I'm not looking for horses to buck guys off. I like to see those high marks. I'd just as soon have an 88 pointer as one that'll throw a guy off--that's just as gratifying to me."

True Grit fit into Wayne Vold's bucking horse pen better and more quickly than he'd anticipated..

"Usually trying to meld those new horses into a herd is a tough deal." But that wasn't the case with this mare as Vold went on to explain. "The strangest thing happened. Eclypce (another great Vold bucking horse) gathered her up, fell in love with her and protected her; it was amazing to watch. You don't see that very often. They buddied up and that was a good deal."

The bay blaze faced horse jumps and kicks and stays kicking for the full eight seconds. "She seems just as strong at eight as she does at two," Vold explained. "I'd like to thank the bareback riders for voting True Grit Horse of the Year."

2013 Stock the Year

Saddle Bronc Horse of the Year

508 LUNATIC PARTY - Outlaw Buckers Rodeo Corp.

"She's really showy, gets big air time, has good timing, and she takes lots of rein," said Dwayne Schellenberg of the seven year-old bay pinto mare from the Outlaw Buckers bucking horse string.

"Everything about Lunatic Party they (the bronc riders) like." Lunatic Party's been selected for the NFR twice and the CFR three times... including 2013.

"For the guys that are charging and riding, trying to win first, she's outstanding," Schellenberg added. "The more rein you give her, the harder she'll buck."

Runner up for Saddle Bronc of the Year in 2012, Lunatic Party was one of thirty-one Outlaw Buckers animals selected for this year's CFR. This Horse of the Year award gives the Outlaw Buckers Rodeo Company an animal of the year in each of the three rough stock events.

"As a new company, it's pretty cool; we've won one in each event," noted Schellenberg proudly. "It's exciting to see where the company is going."

Bull of the Year - T22 RED STAG - Outlaw Buckers Rodeo Corp.

Named after a bottle of Jim Beam's Red Stag by Neil Graham (Beam Canada President) and Alberta Premium's Norm Little, T22 Red Stag, a 6 year-old brindle muley, weighs in at about three quarters of a ton.

"1,500 pounds if he's lucky," Dwayne Schellenberg joked. "He seems to come with everything he's got. He tries hard every time he bucks."

Only two bull riders were able to out-try him to make the 8-second whistle in 2013. Those lucky enough to cover Red Stag, get a bottle of Red Stag courtesy of Beam Canada.

T22 isn't the first great bucking bull raised by Bob Baird nor is he the first bull to be named by Norm and company.

"Usually if they ride them, I give them a bottle like we always have before with (bulls) Alberta Premium and Alberta Springs" said Norm Little.

Schellenberg finished by saying. "Just lately he's really matured a lot and he's starting to act like a bucking bull now. He's getting better all the time. He wasn't always outstanding; he was a good bull but now he's slowly maturing into a superstar. He knows what he's there for. He's really good. I like that bull."

2013 Timed Event Horses of the Year

Ladies Barrel Horse With the Most Heart

FC Guys Prime Time (Frenchie) - owned by Katie Garthwaite

"There is something very special about this mare; she has something a little extra." Katie Garthwaite noted as she explained the 'round about way' she acquired her barrel horse, Frenchie.

"A friend posted videos of her on the Internet and I had another friend looking for a horse. She went and looked at the mare and brought her home. I always thought she was something special. When my friend started having problems with the mare, she sent her to me and I really fell in love; the rest is history."

FC Guys Prime Time, or "Frenchie" is a 10-year-old racy mare that shows just why the barrel racing horse of the year award is known as The Horse with the Most Heart. Garthwaite won both Grande Prairie and Leduc on the same 2013 weekend aboard Frenchie; a huge feat considering one rodeo is indoors and the other is an outdoor pen. here so I'm very proud."

Steer Wrestling Horse of the Year

Rocks Eye Opener (Jessie) - owned by Lee Graves

He's a 3 million dollar horse, a two time Canadian and World Champion, and now the 2013 Canadian Steer Wrestling Horse of the Year.

Rocks Eye Opener, known in the steer wrestling community as Jessie, hasn't always been the champion he is now. "Everybody thought I was crazy to buy him. You couldn't get him in the box when I got him; he was pretty messed up and it took me a while to rebuild him," said owner Lee Graves.

Graves took a chance on the young gelding that still, at 18 years, displays the quirks of a once troubled horse. "For all the bad traits he has, he has super great traits. Overall at the end of the day... he's going to do the same thing and give you a chance to have some success at the rodeo."

Graves displays enormous pride in the black horse and gratitude to the competitors who voted for Jessie. "It's great to get recognized this way (in Canada); Jessie won the world twice and I didn't know if he'd ever win it up here so I'm very proud."

2013 Timed Event Horses of the Year

Tie-Down Roping Horse of the Year

Sid - owned by Dean Edge

Stellar. There's just no other way to describe Sid, the five time Tie-Down Roping Horse of the Year owned by Dean Edge.

The 18-year-old grade gelding has been in Edge's stable since 2000 and will now compete at his 10th consecutive Canadian Finals Rodeo.

Obviously a popular choice among ropers, the bay with the funny white spot has brought the likes of 11 time NFR Qualifier Jerome Schneeberger and Canadian Champion Al Bouchard to pay window many times.

Edge marvels about the weekend this season where all three rodeos were won aboard Sid; Edge won Grande Prairie and Handhills and six time NFR qualifier Josh Peek won Leduc.

The world of Canadian tie-down roping is proud to have a horse that could have been lost to colic about ten years ago. Edge says Sid's performance in 2013 showed he's not ready to leave the world of rodeo quite yet. "He acts and feels like he's eight years old. He's been really trying hard and doing everything right; he's really easy to rope on this year. Just by how sound he is, he's acting like he could go on for another four or five years for sure," said Edge.

2013 Timed Event Horses of the Year

Heading Horse of the Year

Haidas Grey Badger (Badger) - owned by Steele DePaoli

At the age of nine many horses are just reaching a level of maturity that allows them to thrive in the intensely competitive world of rodeo. At age nine, Haidas Grey Badger or simply "Badger", made his 5th consecutive trip to the Canadian Finals Rodeo.

The grey gelding ridden by Steele DePaoli entered Rexall Place in Edmonton for the first time at just five years of age and has been improving each year since then.

"He has matured so much in the last two years. He has always been really good in the arena but his scoring has improved every year," said DePaoli.

DePaoli noted with pride that many National Finals team ropers have expressed an interest in purchasing the eager-to-please horse, one of the best compliments a horse owner can receive. The grey horse isn't going anywhere anytime soon though; DePaoli is saving Badger for himself in the hopes of someday making his own trip to the Thomas and Mack Center in Las Vegas.

Heeling Horse of the Year

Heza N Jack (Bam Bam) - owned by Kasper Roy

He's a small, but very stout little heel horse with a name that says it all. Heza N Jack, known as Bam Bam, owned by Kasper Roy, is the embodiment of the 1960's cartoon character the dun gelding is named after.

The 9-year-old 'little horse that could' has been travelling to pro rodeos for just a couple of years and has already checked off wins at Teepee Creek, Hanna, Sundre and Pincher Creek - just to name a few. And 2013 marked the first CFR appearance for the talented gelding and his owner.

"It's cool--when he feels the pressure it's like he goes into a higher performance level. You can tell that he wants to win just as much as I do," said Roy.

Roy's team roping partner Steele DePaoli says it appears Bam Bam saves his energy strictly for competition. He laughs about a picture he snapped earlier in the season of the lazy horse snoozing flat out on his side, head resting under the trailer. When DePaoli approached the horse, he simply lifted his head to see who was there, then set it back down and continued to sleep.
